Two Blasts Shake
Explosives Plant

RICHMOND, Calif. (AP)—Two explosions occurred today at the Chemurgic Corporation plant. The plant is engaged in the manufacture of explosives. The Chemurgic plant is located about 15 miles northeast of San Francisco on the bay, and about 20 miles from Port Chicago where the explosion July 17 of two ammunition ships took 322 lives.

Racehorse Owner
Ruled Off 30 Days

VANCOUVER (CP)—A saliva test made on the horse Bontage at Hastings Park July 20 today resulted in suspension of owner-trainer H. J. Fisher, prominent British Columbia horseman, for 30 days.

Racing Secretary Arthur Dingman announced today that the Hastings Park racing stewards imposed the suspension after receiving reports on the tests.

Concussion Shakes Party At Luncheon; U.S. Soldier Killed

FIFTH ARMY ADVANCE HEADQUARTERS IN ITALY (AP)—Two German mines were exploded less than 300 yards from where King George VI of Britain, Archbishop Francis J. Spellman of New York, Lt. Gen. Mark W. Clark and other British and U.S. military leaders were lunching Friday.

The King had just finished inspecting an impressive display of 5th Army strength.

The American soldier who inadvertently set off the mines was killed instantly.

The concussion was felt at the luncheon table, but no one there was injured.

Girl Smuggled to Normandy Spent 2 Weeks Near Front

LONDON (CP-Reuters)—Nineteen-year-old Mary Phillips, factory worker from Trimsaran, South Wales, told today how she was "smuggled" over to Normandy in an amphibious landing craft, risked being shot as a spy, and spent two weeks just behind the battle line before being returned to England under military escort.

War Office officials and Scotland Yard detectives questioned the girl on her arrival, and then permitted her to relate the story of her adventures, believed to be unique in this war.

SHANGHAI— "I went to the seaside and met two girl friends," she said. "Some soldiers talked to us and said they were going over to Normandy that day. I remember saying 'no' when somebody lifted me suddenly, carried me on to a boat and put me down through a hatch and closed it up."

"It was dark, hot and stuffy down there. I must have fainted because the next thing I remember was a soldier peering down at me and saying, 'You're in France, baby.'"

The attractive, dark-haired Welsh girl said that when she came up on deck "guns were firing everywhere, and there was a lot of noise. It frightened me to realize I was so near the battle front. I jumped on to the shore and went straight to a guard, who took me to an officer about a mile and a quarter from the front line."

FRIGHTENED TO MOVE

"I was almost too frightened to move because of the shells passing overhead. When I told the officer who I was and where I came from he was dumfounded."

Mary said she was guarded

Soviets Plunge To Within 51-2 Miles of Kaunas

LONDON (CP)—Russia's advance through the Baltics closed within 5 1/4 miles of the old Lithuanian capital of Kaunas today by capturing Kormela on the northeast, Moscow announced tonight.

Meanwhile the big guns of the Red Army opened up on German troops in the suburbs of Warsaw, while advance cavalry, scout cars and tanks pushing from the southeast were believed within sight of the Polish capital.

Marshal Konstantin K. Rokossovsky's advance units stabbed forward Friday night from Kolbel, 20 miles southeast of Warsaw, followed by powerful artillery pieces that were wheeled into position for the bombardment.

Rokossovsky's right wing moved on for the purpose of joining other Russian forces battling through the streets of Siedlce, 50 miles east of Warsaw, after capturing Brest Litovsk.

20,000 NAZIS TRAPPED

Upwards of 20,000 Nazis were believed bogged in against the western Bug River with escape virtually out of the question.

With Brest Litovsk captured, Rokossovsky freed numerous units for fighting against Siedlce.

In northern Lithuania, meanwhile, the Russians plunged to within 50 miles of Riga, Latvian seaport on the Baltic, with the capture of Joniskis, 23 miles north of the rail junction of Siauliai. A German army, estimated at perhaps 300,000, was imperiled in Estonia and Latvia with the cutting of the main Nazi rail route to east Prussia.

(The German radio today said Russian troops had penetrated to the rail hub of Jelgava, 21 miles south of Riga in Latvia, but claimed they were later thrown out. Such an advance would practically cut off the Baltics.)

In the south, the Nazi strongholds of Jaroslavl and Przemyśl fell to the Russian Ukraine forces. A march into Czechoslovakia through the Carpathian Mountain passes loomed.

A dispatch from the army newspaper Red Star said long lines of Poles were following the Soviet forces as they moved towards Warsaw.

'Perfect Nordic' In Island Fastness

UNITY MITFORD

LONDON (CP)—Unity Mitford, once called the "perfect type of Nordic beauty" by Adolph Hitler, has been granted permission to live on the island of Inch Kenneth in the Atlantic, west of Mull and has taken up residence there with her parents, Lord and Lady Redesdale, it was disclosed today.

Dictator Softens Jingoistic Talk, Now Woos Masses

By TOM NELSON

MONTEVIDEO, Uruguay (Ona Cable)—Whatever his motives, Vice-president Juan Peron has adopted a considerably softer tone in his speeches of recent date, providing a marked contrast to the tough talk of his jingoistic June 10 address which widened the rift between Argentina and the United States.

Political circles here, following his recent speeches, noted that in talks made last week, the Vice-President, who is also war minister, seldom mentioned the army, directing his major efforts to an appeal to the masses.

Peron's wooing of the masses has taken a more open and stronger form than ever before. His speeches are replete with such phrases as "the revolution is of the people and for the people." He insists that the revolution, which brought to power a military dictatorship which has taken Argentina far along the path to totalitarianism, was made so that "honest men and workers might have their just reward." He frequently iterates that "no body should be too poor nor too rich."

The Vice-President saw fit several times to declare that the military stage of the revolution was ended.

POSITION

There is little disposition here to feel that Peron has had a change of heart or that he is not still pursuing a course which he and his followers believe will win for Argentina domination of South America. Rather the feeling is that the violent American reaction to his extremism has so weakened his internal position that he feels the need of mass support for his dictatorship, a support which has up to now been lacking.

Peron's efforts to attract greater civilian backing were first evidenced on the occasion of his ascension to the Vice-Presidency, when only unions and no military formations were mobilized to acclaim him.

Gets Rich Haul

NEW WESTMINSTER, B.C. (CP)—The appropriately named fishing boat Bumper Catch, owned by Arne Beardsen of New Westminster, brought to this port the largest catch of soupfin sharklivers ever delivered. It brought more than $21,000 and there were dogfish livers as well worth $3,200. The catch represented one month's work.

Chinese Hurl Japanese Back At Hengyang

By SPENCER MOOSA

CHUNGKING (AP)—Loss of Pingliang, 95 miles northeast of encircled and battered Hengyang in Hunan province, was acknowledged by the Chinese high command tonight, but a communique said 10 separate attacks upon Hengyang by Japanese troops trying desperately to capture the Canton-Hankow rail junction, were thrown back.

Positions at Hengyang, a commune said, remained unchanged.

Five strongpoints were said to have been recaptured by the Chinese east of Hengyang, after engaging the enemy in sanguinary battles throughout all of Friday.

The High Command announced that Chinese troops are fighting in the suburbs of tengchung, main Japanese base of the Yun-nan front, after capturing heights dominating the entire city.

Urge Redrafting On Insurance Bill

OTTAWA (CP)—The Commons committee on social security recommended today that a draft national health insurance bill which it has been studying for several months, be referred to the forthcoming Dominion-provincial conference.

The recommendation was contained in a committee report tabled in the Commons by Hon. Cyrus MacMillan, committee chairman.

The draft bill, drawn up by Health Department officials, was slightly amended by the committee, which did not approve clauses dealing with financial arrangements between the Dominion and provincial governments.

Transport Plane Crashes, 26 Die

WASHINGTON (AP)—Loss of an army transport plane with 26 persons aboard, including 18 patients, while en route from Scotland to Mitchell Field, New York, was announced this afternoon by the War Department.

First Fiddle Wins, Sets Track Record

NEW YORK (AP)—First Fiddle came off the pace in the stretch to win the $50,000 Butler Handicap in track record time of 1:56 at Jamaica today.

He beat Alex Barth from the Millbrook Stable in a photo finish. Wait A Bit trailed a length and one-half in third place. Mrs. Fayne Whitney's entry of Four Freedom's and Stir Up wound up fourth and fifth respectively.

First Fiddle clipped one-fifth of a second-off the mark hung up by Thumbs Up last year. He earned $38,300 today to boost his winnings for the year to $120,180. His backers received $6.10, $3.80 and $2.80 across the board.

From Wounded Scottish

"Please convey to the women's auxiliary of the regiment the sincere thanks of the wounded men of the unit who are in this hospital," writes Major A. H. Plows of the 1st Battalion, Canadian Scottish, who was wounded in the Normandy invasion.

"Lieut. McKenzie, our rear party officer, visits all hospitals treating our wounded and he invariably brings the cigarettes from the women's auxiliary. Our Lieut. Bob Turnbull, himself a patient from a wound received on D-Day, looks after the distribution throughout the wards, and believe me, misses no Canadian Scottish soldier. Having lately returned from Normandy I can further say the cigarettes from the women's auxiliary are very much appreciated there."

"I am sure, too, that the women's auxiliary to the regiment will be pleased and proud to hear that the men of the battalion have borne themselves in battle with courage and intrepidity second to none. They will continue to do so. From all Scottish I send the best wishes ever to all members of the auxiliary and may their good work continue."

For these cigarettes and for other comforts, totaling $900 each month, the Times Scottish Comforts Fund makes its appeal. Reported today are: Mrs. R. Mackintosh, $5.00; Anon., $1.00. Previously reported, $1,950.68. Subscriptions may be sent to Kay McIntyre, Times editorial, who is acting as secretary-treasurer.

Bomb Jap Plants In Manchuria

A SUPERFORTRESS BASE IN WESTERN CHINA (AP) — B-29
Superfortresses today (Friday,
P.D.T.) bombed Anshan in eastern Manchuria.

In the first daylight assault of these long-ranging super-bombers, the weather was reported favorable for the success of the massed raiders, which loosed bombs from high altitudes.
Anshan, city of 200,000 in the Mukden industrial region of Manchuria, has been one of the most important producers of chemical by-products vital to Japan's manufacture of munitions.

Today's mission was the first strike at Manchuria from the air and the first daylight bombing of Japanese targets from high altitudes.

Over 41,000,000 pounds a month
was the average primary magnesium production in the United States for the first three months of this year.

2 Opposition Parties Would Take Quebec Out Of War

'Defy' Britain Says Bloc Chief; Duplessis Stands By B.N.A. Act

By GRANT DEXTER
Victorian Times Correspondent
MONTREAL — Alike in being opposed to the war, is the campaign of the two opposition parties in the provincial elections
here.

Leader Duplessis of the Union
Nationale, and Leader Laurendeau
of the Bloc Populaire have pledged their parties to bring Quebec's co-operation with the rest of Canada in the war to a swift end if elected to office on Aug. 8.

Campaign of the Bloc Populaire
is reminiscent of the Bourassa Nationalist Party of 1911.
"The Bloc," said Laurendeau at Drummondville, "fights against imperialism which gives us a cycle of wars and crises." No government, he asserted, could justify spending $15,000,000 for war. Provincial jurisdiction must be restored.

CANADIAN MONEY TAKEN FOR ENGLAND

On July 19, Laurendeau declared that Premier Godbout is collaborating with a government
"which has thrown $15,000,000, 000 into the abyss of imperialism." Godbout had ceded Quebec's autonomy to Ottawa and had supported the federal government in imposing conscription. Quebec actually now had conscription
under false pretences. Billions had been donated to England which should have been spent on improving the position of poor people in this country. Instead of pouring out all this wealth on war, Prime Minister Mackenzie
King could have spent $3,000
each on houses for needy people,
given $1,000 to each farmer and laborer, erected 240 county hospitals, given a present of $100 to each married couple and $100
to each new baby. In addition,
over $1,000,000,000 could still have been given to England.

'MOUNTED POLICE JUST A GESTAPO'

Laurendeau continuously is attacking what he calls the imperialist policies of Mackenzie
King and Godbout. These leaders,
he says, spend three days a week
taking orders from London, three more taking orders from Washington, and the seventh day proclaiming the independence of Canada. This country, he says,
should have followed the example
of De Valera and "defied" England.

In Laurendeau's view, the election is purely a decision on conscription. The country and the province is now in the grip of a dictator with the R.C.M.P. as the gestapo.

FIGHTING LIBERATION FROM BRITAIN

Extreme though Laurendeau's
campaign speeches may seem,
they are mild in comparison with the rank and file of the Bloc.
Thus, Raphael Baudette, the Bloc candidate in the St. Mary's division of Montreal, said:

"Mr. Godbout, the leader of French Canada — of 3,000,000
French Canadians — has betrayed
his compatriots to the imperialism of Mr. Mackenzie King. We of the Bloc Populaire are fighting
a war of liberation and we shall march to victory under the French Canadian flag."

SOLD OUT QUEBEC TO OTTAWA

Duplessis contends that the Godbout government has ceded
Quebec's autonomy to the Dominion and that continued and increasing interference constitutes a threat to the very existence of the province. Quebec, he asserts, will insist that the division of powers in the B.N.A. Act be respectful, "completely and absolutely." He refuses to recognize the over-riding powers conferred upon the Dominion by the national emergency clause of the constitution, upon which the War Measures Act is based. Practically all of the impairment of provincial jurisdiction of which he complains has occurred under this statute.

According to Duplessis, the Godbout government has catered to Ottawa on numerous matters of vital importance to the province. Provincial power with respect to the income tax has been surrendered. Ottawa has been permitted to control wages, salaries and prices. Ottawa has intervened in matters of social legislation and unemployment insurance.

AGAINST FEDERAL CONTROLS

All of these items, except social
legislation and unemployment,
are directly related to the war effort. The so-called interference, as stated, has been brought about by the War Measures Act. It was against these very federal control measures — then in their beginning — that Duplessis, as premier of Quebec, appealed to the province in the general election of October, 1939. Without federal control over wages, salaries,
prices, taxation and so on, the ceilings could not have been attempted. And without the taxation agreements, the financing of the war would have been infinitely more difficult.

What Duplessis stands for,
therefore, is the withdrawal of Quebec, on the economic side at least, from the war. And while he has had little to say, to date,
on the military phase, there is no reason to believe he is any more favorable here to collaboration.

Bitter Fighting For Florence As Nazi Line Pierced

By NOLAN NORGAARD

ROME (AP) — Desert-hardened
New Zealand veterans of the 8th
Army have cracked Nazi defences south of Florence and knifed their way into the last
mountain line only five miles from the historic city. Allied headquarters announced today.

The break-through provoked strong German counterattacks,
and bitter fighting was reported
in the hills overlooking Florence.
The momentum of the savage counterattacks by Nazi infantry
and Tiger tanks swept the leading company of New Zealanders back 600 yards, but official reports said the enemy then was brought to a halt and positions
in the hills were being firmly held.

BRIDGEHEAD DRIVE

The New Zealand advance took off from a bridgehead over the small Pesa River at Cerbaia.

The threat to Florence also crossed the Greve River, two miles south of Impruneta, 5 1/2 miles from the city's boundaries.

Doug How, Canadian Press war correspondent, said in a dispatch
Friday night that Canadian tanks
of eastern and western regiments
shared in the fighting in an undisclosed sector of the 8th Army front, and in one action drove forward six miles in pursuit of German rearguards.

"Presumably this Canadian armor was part of the veteran 1st Canadian Army Tank Brigade,
previously reported fighting in the lake Trasimeno area. This brigade is made up of the Calgary regiment, the Three Rivers (Que.) regiment and the Ontario
regiment from Oshawa, Ont.

Aside from the bitter fighting
in the New Zealanders' sector,
there was scant fighting of consequence reported Friday along the remainder of the front in Italy.

ARTILLERY DUEL

Official reports said the situation on the Allied 5th Army front was unchanged, with U.S. and German artillery continuing a duel across the lower Arno River.
One extreme left wing of the 8th Army was within two miles of Empoli, within 2 1/2 miles of Monte Lupo.

British and Indian troops drove the foe from the Campriano area
and captured the village of Sociano.

An official announcement said
the 4th British Infantry Division was in the line, maintaining contact with the retreating enemy
in one sector. This division crossed the Rapido River at the beginning of the offensive May 11 and entered Cassino a week later.

The 5th Army disclosed its artillery observation pilots had flown tiny defenceless cub planes 8,600 hours between May 5 and the fall of Rome June 3, spotting targets, and that practically all of the pilots have been awarded air medals.

New Mass Attack Technique; Robots Hurled in Batches

LONDON (AP) — The Nazis
adopted a new "mass attack"
technique in hurling flying bombs
at London and southern England
Friday night, sending the robots
over in batches with brief lulls between onslaughts.

The attacks took a fresh toll
of casualties, including patients
in a hospital which was badly damaged.

Among the victims were nurses,
some of whom despite their injuries, helped volunteer rescue squads carry patients from the hospital under showers of sparks
and embers.

Friday night R.A.F. heavy bombers attacked a supply depot
in the Pas-de-Calais area near Watten, believed connected with the Nazi threat to launch 10-ton rockets against Britain. The depot is near flying-bomb launching sites.

It was estimated meanwhile that 200,000 persons had left London for safer havens in the country — far more than the number evacuated in 1941.

All Parties Vote Family Allowance Bill 2nd Reading

OTTAWA (CP) — Political
affiliations were temporarily laid aside in the Commons Friday
while all parties joined to give their support to the government's Family Allowances Bill.
The support was given when the government, in an attempt to find out if there was anyone who would oppose the measure, forced a vote on second reading of the bill, which will provide a cash
grant to every family in respect of every child in Canada under the age of 16.

The House was tense with expectancy as the vote was being taken, but the tenses snapped
when Gordon Graydon, Progressive Conservative House leader,
stood and voted for the bill.

"And that goes for John Bracken, too," said Mr. Graydon amid applause from all sides.
Some had expected his party to split its votes on the issue because some of its members had criticized the bill while others supported it.

PREMIER SMILES

When 139 voted for the bill and none opposed it, Prime Minister King smiled as seldom before in this session.

In a lengthy speech winding up
the debate, he portrayed the enactment of the legislation as the culmination of a campaign for social reform begun by himself as a young man. He put forward the allowances as the foundation
of a new social order for postwar Canada.

The allowances bill provides for the payment of allowances
ranging from $5 for children up to six years old to $8 for children between 13 and 16. The rate of the allowance would be reduced for the fifth and subsequent children in a family of more than four.

Canadians Lose 23 Aircraft In Widespread Raid

LONDON (CP) — A force of 1,100 U.S. heavy bombers struck Germany's Leuna synthetic oil plant at Merseburg for the second successive day this morning, and also attacked the northern port of Bremen, following a night in which British and Canadian heavy bombers lost 62
planes — including 23 Canadian craft — in huge operations over Germany.

More than 1,000 of the R.A.F.
R.C.A.F. raiders hit at Stuttgart, Frankfurt and flying-bomb bases in France. Friday night, Canadian operations were concentrated against Hamburg.

The loss of 23 bombers was the heaviest suffered by the Canadian bomber group in one night's operations since its formation
more than a year and a half ago.
Among the Canadian group
squadrons participating was the group's newest one, still unnamed and flying in its first operation. It was led by Wing Cmdr. J. G. McNeill, Calgary.

Other squadrons were: Goose,
Thunderbird, Leslie, Iroquois,
Bluenose, Bison, Lion, Porcupine,
Tiger, Alouette, Snowyowl,
Moose, Ghost.

VISUAL ATTACK

Some of the U.S. bombers attacked visually today through breaks in the clouds.

They also raked Nazi airfields
at Juvincourt and Laencouvron, northeast of Paris. A heavy escort accompanied the bombing force.

It was later announced that in the attack on Hamburg, the Canadian bomber group employed the largest force it had ever put over a single target.

A German-occupied village in the Brest peninsula believed to be a German headquarters was wiped out by R.A.F. Spitfires in an attack early today. The village of Scrinage, consisting of between 300 and 400 houses, had been evacuated of the civilian population and a German garrison had been installed. The only building left standing after the bombing
was a church, which pilots reported remained amid a great heap of rubble.

21 NAZIS DOWNED

An Air Ministry communique said that Friday night the bombers were engaged in numerous combats over the Reich
by German night fighters and that the raiders shot down at least 21 German planes and many more probably were destroyed or damaged.

Other British planes carried out attacks on Nazi supply
depots near Watten and Pas-de-Calais. Mines were laid in enemy waters.

The Air Ministry communique
said thick clouds obscured bombing results over Stuttgart, but returning crews reported large fires were left burning in the Hamburg target area.

Merriman Round-up ...

POPULARITY: Prime Minister Mackenzie King wasn't exaggerating when he stated in the Commons this week that he had received a greater measure of support from the Canadian people than any other man in public life. His words were borne out by his record-breaking majorities in the present Parliament and the previous Parliament. . . . In the 1940 elections 75 per cent of all members elected supported Mr. King. Three called themselves Liberal-Progressives and there were three independent Liberals, but all attended Liberal caucuses, in the 1935 elections 72 per cent were his supporters. . . . No other Canadian Prime Minister has received such a majority. Sir Robert Borden's Union government had 65 per cent of the seats and Sir Wilfrid Laurier in 1904 also had 65 per cent. Sir John A. Macdonald equaled that percentage in 1882.
With vacancies and the loss of three by-elections Mr. King now holds 69 per cent of the present Parliament.

CAPT. IAN ST. CLAIR, beloved former physical instructor of Victoria public schools, comes forward to suggest water that usually goes to waste from the kitchen sink, hand basin and bath might profitably be used to sprinkle the garden in these dry days
of water shortage. . . . "A Canadian," declares D. C. Macleannan of 225 Wakefield Road, "is probably the descendant of a poor family in the Old Country, who put all their monetary wealth together to finance one member to come to Canada so that at least one of them might have freedom, prosperity and a free conscience. Look up your family records." . . . Mr. Macleannan suggests that when the war against Japan ends, we should wipe out all customs, immigration and emigration barriers between Canada, Britain and the U.S.
"It is coming anyway," he says, "and the Canada-for-Canadians group remind me of the story of the little Dutch boy with his finger in the seawall holding back the onrush of the sea—in this case a friendly sea."

WHATEVER opinions may be expressed in public, it is apparent
from indications here that the majority of Americans believe President Roosevelt is the likely winner in next November's elections.
To many the idea of one man remaining president for 16 consecutive years is almost inconceivable. But even rabid republicans and anti-Roosevelt democrats have been heard to express, reluctantly and regretfully, the belief that Roosevelt cannot be beaten. Those who would almost give an arm to see a new president in the White House, seem, in some instances, to be in the grip of a fatalistic belief that Roosevelt is unbeatable — a belief created by his unprecedented victories at the polls. . . . Americans have a problem which threatens to demand all their interest and statesmanship — the problem of dealing with nearly 13,000,000 negroes whom a large group of southern states would relegate to a position of servile inferiority.
Southerners fear that if negroes are permitted and encouraged to vote they could swing the balance of power and rule some local communities, and the whites' demands for a national plank aimed at keeping negroes in an inferior position threatens to split the democratic party wide open.

enemy reserves and vehicles.

Other fighter-bombers and long-range fighters on armed re-

France attacked locomotives,
rolling stock and road transport.
Targets for our medium and light bombers were eight rail
bridges northwest of Paris, an important ammunition dump in the Forêt de Senoches near Chartres, and rail centres north of Bernay. Last night light bombers attacked 18 trains and many road targets in northern France.

Coastal aircraft attacked small enemy vessels off St. Malo yesterday. One boat carrying troops was sunk.
Five enemy aircraft were shot down over the beachhead last night.

Shipyard Strike

HALIFAX (CP) — A general strike at the Halifax Shipyards
Ltd. and its Marine Slip and Windmill Pier across the harbor, went through its third day today with 3,000 workers still holding out for maintenance of membership
and a check-off.
The strike was called Thursday
morning when the action committee of the Industrial Union of Marine and Shipbuilding Workers (C.I.U.) decided further negotiations would not bring the company to agree to include the check-off and membership clauses
in the next contract, due in November.

Duplessis Party Overtakes Bloc Populaire In Voting

(Editor's Note: The following analysis of the Quebec political situation is not a prediction as to what the final outcome of the vote Aug. 8 will be, but is a factual report on the strength of the four major parties some two weeks before official polling will take place. The Institute's final report will appear on Saturday, Aug. 5.)

By CANADIAN INSTITUTE OF PUBLIC OPINION

TORONTO—Vigorous gains by the Union Nationale party, putting them in a precarious second place in terms of voting strength, form the outstanding development of the Quebec political scene during the past few weeks, as measured by the Canadian Institute. Part of these gains have been made at the expense of the Bloc Populaire Canadien, and part are due to the fact that the Progressive Conservative Party is not entering candidates in the Aug. 8 contest. Supporters of the Liberal Party have shown no change numerically, but still make the largest single voting group in the province.

In its latest and semi-final report on the Quebec situation, the Institute found the following to be the voting strength of the four major parties, after eliminating independent and other parties.

Figures for surveys made in May and June of this year are added on the same basis, for comparison:

	May	June	Today
Liberals	41%	40%	40%
Union Nationale	14	15	25
Bloc Populaire	27	29	25
Pro. Cons.	14	16	6
C.C.F.	7	6	6

*Progressive Conservatives not included in latest ballot, as result of this party's decision not to enter candidates.

It will be seen that the Bloc Populaire Canadien, which until recently has enjoyed a more or less comfortable second place in the race for votes, has been nosed out of this position by the Union Nationale. Their respective positions, in percentage points, however, is so close (particularly in view of the 4 per cent margin of error to which modern opinion polls are subject) that it might well change before the Institute makes its final report.

This report appears 11 days before the polls open, and it is obvious that many factors render the figures unsatisfactory as a final prediction of what the vote will be. A number of constituencies have not yet nominated a complete roster of candidates, and therefore some of those persons interviewed by the Gallup Poll in the course of this survey may be unable to vote for the party of their choice, after nominations close. As shown by the table above, moreover, public opinion in the heat of an election is subject to fairly sharp swings.

Mussolini Cut Wrist But He Lived

ROME (AP) — Hysterical and fearful of being handed over to the Allies, Benito Mussolini made a feeble attempt at suicide last Sept. 12 by slashing a wrist with a razor blade, a reliable informant has just disclosed here.

The half-hearted attempt was made a few hours before Mussolini was freed from the Hotel Campo Imperatore by German parachutists, said the informant, who requested anonymity.

This was the story told by the informant:

"On Sept. 12, about 3 a.m., carabinieri who were at Mussolini's disposal... hurried to the superior officer and told him the Duce was almost hysterical. The officer ran to Mussolini's room and found him standing. One wrist was cut and blood had stained a pajama sleeve. Mussolini held a razor blade.

"I am tired of living," Mussolini said. He handed the officer a letter in which he had written that he wished to end his life. The officer treated the cut, calmed the Duce and, without much difficulty, persuaded him to return to bed."

The fallen Mussolini also was said to have feared being given to the Allies.

Further information on how Mussolini was freed by the Germans was given by the informant, who said the carabinieri guarding the Duce were informed that "government orders" to hold Mussolini with their lives had been modified and that they should be very prudent. Consequently when S.S. parachute troops dropped on Gran Sasso, where the Hotel Campo Imperatore is located, at 2 p.m., Sept. 12, the carabinieri held their fire.

B.R. Pilots, Like Dave Hornell, V.C., Have Hard Life

By LAC. PETER INGLIS

A WEST COAST R.C.A.F. OPERATIONAL STATION

"These men are fighting one of the hardest battles of the war," says this station's intelligence officer.

"These men" are the B.R. boys—the bomber reconnaissance crews who fly seaward patrols. The battle they are fighting is not against a tangible enemy, but against weather, geography and boredom, these three—and the greatest of these is boredom. Fit. Lt. David Hornell, V.C., was a member of B.R., both on this coast and the Atlantic. He was on a routine flight out of his Iceland base when he sank a sub and won the Empire's highest award for valor.

"Somebody has to do the job," they wryly say, "and it's us." The job is to lift their fast, modern bomber aircraft from great runways hacked out of the west coast forest, head them straight out to seaward for several hundred miles, cutting across the steamer lanes on their patrols, and then bring them home.

That sounds simple, but here the other two enemies, weather and geography, come into the picture. These pilots call the combination of the two "clouds with rocks in them." With no advance notice, the great fog bank which hovers a few miles out over the Pacific all summer can slide in seaward and completely block out the shoreline and the station. Close behind the station are jagged mountains. Much of the time they are swathed in cloud.

CORE OF ROCK

To bring home an aircraft in such conditions, without landmarks, with no great reserve of fuel after a long patrol, with the constant threat that the next cloud ahead may have a core of rock, to a station which is just a blaze in a vast extent of bush and rock, is as tough a job of navigation as can be found anywhere.

When the crews come out of the briefing room they know that their chance of sighting anything—except the occasional friendly freighter slogging along the steamer lane—is at the outside one in 500. But because of that one remote chance of catching an enemy submarine, and because of the even more remote chance that some Japanese aircraft carrier might sneak near the British Columbia coast for a hit-and-run raid, the seaward patrol has to be maintained.

The men who fly it say they are "bushed" from their long stay in the coastal wilderness.

PLENTY OF BUSHING

The title of "most bushed pilot of all" is claimed by FO. H. S. Clark of Vancouver, who has been piloting Pacific coast patrols for two years and three months, with 16 months working out of Alaska. In that time he has not sighted a single enemy submarine.

His own navigator, FO. G. M. Lindsay of Toronto, has been with him for two years.

FO. J. P. Brookman of Calgary came to the coast at about the same time as FO. Clark and was with him in Alaska.

Fit. Lt. W. W. Fox of Toronto also has well over two years of service on the coast.

Some of the B.R. pilots have returned to Canada from service overseas. There are, for instance, Sqdn. Ldr. A. G. Hobbs, Calgary; Sqdn. Ldr. C. W. McNeill, R.A.F.; WO1. G. J. "Cerry" Burns, Saskatoon, who had flown out of England, the Middle East, Africa, and Australia before coming to the Canadian west coast; FO. "Marty" Martineau, Hamilton, Ont., with a tour of operations overseas to his credit; WO1. Roy Hooper, with 33 overseas operational trips; and WO1. John Unlowski, a Saskatchewan man with half a tour.

Other in the B.R. squadron include Sqdn. Ldr. Bill Ramsay, Vancouver; PO. Nick Roberts, Montreal, and Sgt. R. A. Elwood, Toronto.

Complete C.C.F.-ism Not Yet Possible

EDMONTON (CP) — Complete C.C.F. platform cannot be implemented in the provincial legislative field, Harold Winch, C.C.F. leader in B.C., said in an Alberta election campaign address here. Only through co-operative provincial-Dominion legislative action could the policies of the party be put into effect, he said. He appealed to the electors to return a C.C.F. government in the Alberta election Aug. 8. This would be the next step in the party's march to the completion of its policy to establish a socialistic order in Canada, he said.

In the provincial field, he added, the party can implement its platform on housing, health and education.

He spoke of the "hungry thirties," saying the depression of that time had been caused because capitalism could not solve the problem of distribution. He said the C.C.F. policy of production for use and not for profit was the answer to this problem.

183 Candidates In Alberta

CALGARY (CP) — Shirt-sleeved politicians, plodding Alberta in midsummer, hope they will be elected to seats in the provincial Legislature Aug. 8, but they keep looking over their shoulders at Ottawa.

A survey by the Canadian Press, Friday night, showed 183 candidates unofficially nominated to contest the 57 seats in the Legislature.

(Official nominations closed at 1 this afternoon, Victoria time.) That Social Credit, Independent and C.C.F. candidates give thought to the forthcoming federal general election shows in every speech they make. Their party ambitions will not be satisfied with a place in the Alberta sun; all have hopes of contributing to a federal victory.

The Social Credit viewpoint, as expressed by Premier E. C. Manning and his followers, is that all things will be possible for their party if they are returned to power in the province.

They have faith in the new Social Credit Association of Canada, headed by Provincial Treasurer Solon Low, and its ability to make social credit a federal election factor in provinces other than Alberta.

ON TO BERLIN

WARSAW CAPTURED BY THE RUSSAINS. This is not yet a fact. But before the preliminaries to the ultimate battle for Hitler's Reich are much older the ancient Polish capital may again be free. The new series of brilliant triumphs which the valiant armies of the Soviet Union began to score a trifle more than a month ago assumed a speed early this week which very likely has baffled the most optimistic military observers. In rapid succession, flames with which we grew familiar in the first Great War, and in the summer of 1941, again were on the lips of disillusioned Germans.

Nor has the official Berlin news agency showed the least hesitancy in chronicling events that presage but one end for National Socialism and Hitler's so-called new order. German announcements of the westward progress of the Russian "Blitzkrieg" often have preceded Moscow's official confirmations by two or three days. And since this has been the policy for several months it cannot be ascribed to last week's "bombing offensive" against the persons of the Fuehrer and his cohorts. The fact is worth mentioning in the light of present-day developments, because it may not be wholly unconnected with reports of internal unrest which ante date the latest Soviet offensives. Not that such uneasiness among the German people can by any stretch of the imagination be held responsible for continuous retreats; these bear witness to the undisputed fact that the Nazi generals and their armies have been outwitted and outflanked since Stalingrad.

Incidentally, what a time the historian will have when he assembles his data for his chapter on the Russo-German war of 1941-1944! What will he say about the "experts" in many lands who were quite convinced on that Sunday morning of June 22, 1941, that the great and invincible Wehrmacht would require but a few weeks, or a few months at the most, to polish off the "Red Army"? And we hope he will find some room to mention one man who, in the darkest days of this campaign, steadfastly refused to be moved by these doleful predictions. For it was Dr. Max Werner, author of "The Military Strength of the Powers," who pointed out just three years ago today that the German battle plan of annihilation by encirclement, executed in Poland and in the west in 12 days, in the Balkans in a single week, was never carried out during the first four weeks on the eastern front.

Certainly, he admitted at the time, the Wehrmacht would be likely to continue with offensive strategy at all costs; "but once the Red Army has evened the score in the matter of experience"—and, of course, the Germans had had plenty of experience—"it will assuredly launch a counter-offensive." From time to time since those fateful days Dr. Werner has persisted in his faith in Russian arms. Verily must he be a happy man today!

WESTERN NAZI WING'S FLIGHT

LATE THIS AFTERNOON LONDON reported the Reich's official D.N.B. news agency announcing this: "The Germans are about to withdraw the entire western wing of the invasion front to shorten the line." Until further details are available it would be unwise to interpret this new development as anything beyond the result of pressure which General Bradley's men have successfully applied to the enemy in the area on the south and west of St. Lo. But it is fairly clear that the Nazi elements involved are compelled to move and move quickly to prevent annihilation or capture. Even if they are successful in evading disaster for the moment, speedy withdrawal will complicate any attempt to dig in. And the Germans themselves have not forgotten how the Luftwaffe dealt with disorganized retreats in the early summer of 1940.

Any serious dislocation of the enemy's western wing, of course, may present Canadian and United Kingdom troops in the bitterly-contested Caen region with just the opportunity for which General Montgomery has bided his time to exploit. Here again, of course, the layman hesitates to get out of his depth. But the dispatches have graphically described the heavy cost sustained by Rommel's men and armor in their fanatical but unsuccessful counterattacks against the Allied eastern bastion. The enemy nevertheless wasted his resources in these efforts and gave General Bradley the chance in the west of which he took full advantage. Marshal Rommel did what "Monty" wanted and expected him to do—repeat strategy that had failed before. The important value of this new Nazi "detaching" manoeuvre to the Allies, however, is the psychological effect it will have on the German people as they watch with awe the Russian advance toward the Reich's soil.

LOOKING FORWARD

THE UNIVERSITY OF TORONTO is expanding its School of Social Work with an eye to the intensified social problems that it is expected the country will face after the war. The Toronto Star congratulates the University in appointing as the school's director, Dr. Harry M. Cassidy, formerly of Victoria, where he was director of social welfare for B.C., and more recently head of the social welfare department at the University of California, and director of training at Washington, D.C., for the United Nations' Relief and Rehabilitation Administration.

The Toronto school will offer a two-year post-graduate course of theoretical and field studies in every branch of social service, including public welfare administration. It is pioneering a new field in Canada, for social work is the youngest among the organized, disciplined professions. As in nursing, teaching and other lines of service, it is recognized now that modern society's problems require for their successful treatment specifically trained and qualified persons. Here in Victoria, as elsewhere across the Dominion, trained workers are making an essential contribution to our social welfare and morale. The war has emphasized the worth of their service, particularly in the branches of the fighting services, and in the department of defence and pensions.

With family allowances and other welfare legislation now on the horizon, along with problems of rehousing and veterans' rehabilitation, the demands for trained social workers will greatly expand. There is a profession which offers an opportunity for forward-looking, socially-conscious young men and women. Their objective is not merely the alleviation of poverty, but the attainment of "freedom from want and fear" for society as a whole.

COMPLYING WITH A REQUEST

BEFORE US IS A LETTER FROM A COR- respondent who wants us to tell him in these columns whether the "heads of the Nazi government will be able to beat it to a neutral country and escape the consequences of their villainy like the Kaiser escaped the consequences of his bad deeds in 1918." And the writer suggests that if such escapes are permitted by international law, it is time the law was changed; and something should be done before it is too late. The points thus raised are interesting ones and a dip into history may be useful.

It should be understood at the outset that Germany observes international law only when it suits her convenience. She is and has been a party to all the conventions she has violated. As to the culprits finding refuge in neutral countries, however, we would suggest their chances are very slim indeed. With the exception, perhaps, of Argentina, no nation with any regard for its role in the postwar world would lightly consent to give sanctuary to the Fuehrer and his gang—even supposing they were able to make good their escape and land safely on foreign shores. And a properly constituted association of the major and minor powers should by that time be in a position to apply such pressure as may be required to cause their surrender without much ado.

The case of the Kaiser provides no parallel for what may or may not take place this time. Under Article 227 of Part VII of the Treaty of Versailles, the Allied and Associated Powers covenanted to arraign publicly the former German Emperor "for a supreme offence against international morality and the sanctity of treaties." This provided for a special tribunal "to try the accused, thereby assuring him the guarantees essential to the right of defence." Five judges were to comprise the court—one each from the U.S.A., Britain, France, Italy and Japan. And "in its decision the tribunal will be guided by the highest motives of international policy, with a view to vindicating the solemn obligations of international undertakings and the validity of international morality." The final clause reads:

"The Allied and Associated Powers will address a request to the government of the Netherlands for the surrender to them of the ex-Emperor in order that he may be put on trial."

That provision had due regard for popular demand at the time. And it is difficult to believe, for example, that the proposal was not made in earnest by the British government. But the inevitable refusal of the Dutch government to surrender him ended the incident, and the Allies virtually dropped the even more justifiable and important proposal to bring to justice some of the more heinous offenders against the rules of war, and for flagrant abuses of international law. But that was how the Kaiser "escaped the consequences of his bad deeds in 1918."

Sweden, Switzerland, Spain, Portugal and Turkey are the present European states not actively participating in the war. None will admit Hitler and his gang—and not even Spain would dare refuse their surrender in case of a clandestine landing. That leaves only South America as a doubtful place of refuge. So we suggest to our correspondent that there is very little likelihood of the Fuehrer and his fellow murderers doing anything like as well for themselves as Wilhelm Hohenzollern. Too many nations want their hides.

MILD REPROOF

SOME LONDON NEWSPAPERS HAVE chided the liberated Norman French for shaving the heads of women collaborationists. One called the practice the "despicable technique of the Fascists." But we had always understood that the Fascists, or rather the Nazis in France and Italy, had not contented themselves with such mild reproof when the collaboration was with Germany's enemies. Were not the concentration camp and the firing squad more typical of their technique? The hair of the "collaborationists" will grow back. The patriot victims of the Nazi technique will not return. Is the haircut for those women who fraternized with the enemy too severe a punishment?

"I'm spending it so the government can't get it" means: "I am keeping no record of the cash I take in."

Man is of few days and full of troubles, most of which wouldn't bother him if he didn't have so much imagination.

A SECOND REICHSTAG FIRE

WHAT HAS HAPPENED in Germany is not a revolt of the generals. It is a second Reichstag fire.

Hitler ordered a purge of the Wehrmacht. He started a preventive war against his own military leaders and, as in so many of his wars, he has won the first battle. Whether he will win the last battle in this war with the Junkers is not at all clear.

To get a clear view of the explosion that occurred on July 20, it is necessary to go back to another July 20, which has become a fateful day in German history. That day, it appears, marks the beginning and the end of the alliance between the German military caste and the Nazi party.

It was on July 20, 1932, that General Gerd von Rundstedt, at that time commander of the Wehrkreis (military district) of Berlin, violated the constitution of the Weimar Republic, ousting the social democratic government of Prussia by military force. It was on that day that the Social Democratic prime minister of Prussia, Otto Braun, and the whole Prussian cabinet were driven from their Berlin offices. It was on that day that the Weimar Republic was lost.

It is true that General von Rundstedt did not act under the orders of Hitler, who at that time was only a party leader. The orders came from President von Hindenburg and Chancellor Franz von Papen. Both installed the Junker caste, but both were convinced that the aristocratic generals and landlords would be unable to rule Germany alone. They needed this coup d'état as a preparation for the deal they were going to make with the Nazi party. They established an authoritarian dictatorship with the aim of sharing it with Hitler.

This alliance between the Junkers and the Nazis lasted for exactly 12 years. There was much friction, even bloodshed, but the alliance existed until it was ended on July 20, 1944.

THE STORY OF the alleged attempt on Hitler's life follows the well-known pattern of the Reichstag fire of 1933 and the blood purge of 1934. Hitler came to power on Jan. 30, 1933. During the entire month of February, the Communists, the Social Democrats and the Democrats did nothing to justify a dissolution of their parties and a persecution of German liberals. But Hitler needed a change in the German political structure. To achieve it, he invented a crime. So Goering kindled the Reichstag fire and a poor Dutchman, Van Der Lubbe, was convicted as the culprit.

Van Der Lubbe's alleged crime served as the pretext to exterminate the potential menace of a left-wing counterblow against Hitler's newly established dictatorship. Hitler could have inaugurated his terror without the pretext. But he chose this method, both for internal and external reasons, and it proved successful. So he has repeated it time and again, and that is why he is repeating it now in his gravest predicament.

IN MAY AND JUNE, 1934, a new danger arose for the Nazi regime. Hitler's Stormtroopers, led by Hitler's personal friend, Ernst Roehm, asked for "the second revolution," stressing the socialist phases of the Nazi party program. This second revolution was to be directed against the Prussian aristocracy. But Hitler feared that his fragile alliance with the German military clique would come to an end and that he might lose the basis of his power. So he invented a new crime, a double conspiracy by Roehm and his revolutionary stormtroopers on the one side and the conservative General von Schleicher on the other. In the blood purge of June 30, 1934, he killed with one stroke his most dangerous conservative rival, von Schleicher, and all the left-wing leaders of the stormtroopers. The alliance between the military class and the Nazi regime was reaffirmed; but the weight of the alliance had shifted. The generals, who had lost one of their foremost leaders, had received a stern warning; from now on they occupied the second place in the German dictatorial set-up.

HITLER FOLLOWED the same pattern on other occasions. Early in November, 1938, a minor official of the German Embassy in Paris, Ernst von Rath, was killed. A Polish Jew, Herschel Grynszpan, fired the bullet. Hitler used this incident to set in motion a well prepared pogrom, accusing all the German Jews of connivance in the killing of von Rath. He used a mere incident, this time genuine, to inaugurate his policy of extermination of all the Jews.

There were still other occasions when the same method was used. But he did not take advantage of every opportunity to use it. Late in 1937 a real conspiracy occurred in Germany. At that time the German army was under the command of Freiherr von Fritsch who had plotted together with leading German industrialists. Hitler later removed him without making much fuss; he spared his revenge for a better opportunity. He could have done so now. But he needed the incident this time.

But the main story is not the drama that may or may not have occurred in Hitler's headquarters on that fateful July 20, but the differences between the leading generals and Hitler which led to the purge of the Wehrmacht.

That purge has ushered in a new era of National Socialism. It will certainly be a short one. But it is the era of total destruction proclaimed only three weeks ago by Goebbels.

A wife is a person who gets so mad at her husband she cries on his shoulder.

You don't believe in fatalism? Well, did you choose all the factors in your life, or did they just happen?

News Analysis— The War Today

By DEWITT MACKENZIE

Associated Press War Analyst
Many people are speculating whether it really was Adolf Hitler's professional "double," Heinrich Bergner, who lost his life in the bomb explosion in the dictator's headquarters July 20, as announced, or whether the Nazi Fuehrer himself was killed.

I believe that until we have proof to the contrary we should accept as true the Nazi official story that Hitler is alive. This apparently is the attitude of Allied officials and of the Allied press. The reason is that there hasn't been a single fact produced thus far to discredit the claim seriously, and there are several points which support it indirectly.

It also must be said no actual proof has been given us that the Fuehrer is alive. There's no use, for instance, in assuring us that a voice we hear over the air is Hitler's, for the world is full of mimics. And photographs can be taken, too.

One strong argument—not proof—against Hitler being dead is that it isn't likely it could be kept secret many hours. Too many people would know it.

Then I think we must consider this: This decree—supposedly by Hitler—for total mobilization is in the hands of three of his chief captains—Reichsmarshal Goering, the Crown Prince, Propaganda Minister Goebbels, who has been given plenipotentiary powers, and Gestapo Chief Himmler, who's in command of all the armed forces within the Reich. Each of this trio is personally ambitious and it's said that any one of them would cheerfully cut the throats of the other two.

Thus it's difficult to believe they could work in harmony in such an upheaval unless a powerful hand was holding them in check. The present crisis is a "natural" for an adventurous man to seize power. It's no secret that the murderous Himmler would try to reach the top if Hitler weren't in the way.

Although containing less than 1% of the world's population, Canada ranked FIFTH in total trade in 1939... per capita figures substantially exceeding those of the leading economic powers such as United States, United Kingdom and Germany...

—Canada Year Book, 1942

IT is no mere accident that the highest standard of living and the widest distribution of goods and services are found in the United States and Canada.

With a home market only one-tenth that of the United States, how has Canada achieved this? The answer is by foreign trade.

In the year 1901, Canada's per capita foreign trade was only $66.00. Yet, by 1939, Canada led all the world's great economic powers with a per capita foreign trade of $148.00.

This rise was due largely to the development of industry, which enabled Canadians to convert their raw materials into manufactured form, multiplying their value and building up the payrolls that are the back-bone of our living standards.

British Columbia's lumber industry is typical. In the early days lumber exports were chiefly raw logs. By 1939, over 92% of our lumber exports were manufactured products such as plywood, doors, shingles, construction timber and pulp and paper.

No force, outside ourselves, drives Canada forward. Canadians have literally pulled themselves up by their own boot-straps. Both by temperament and physique, we have proven ourselves well able to meet the demands of world competition. Guided by exceptionally able and experienced men and women at the helm, Canada can make even greater strides. The ultimate success will depend upon the sincere co-operation of management and labour.

The bride's chapel veil was held with a Mary Stuart headpiece and she carried a cascade bouquet of red and white carnations. Long white lace mittens completed the bride's ensemble and she was given away by her father. Attending the bride were Miss Daphne Fairall as maid of honor, wearing a pink sheer frock, and Miss Eunice Hewitt, bridesmaid, in blue net. Their headpieces were matching and they carried Colonial bouquets of pink carnations, rosebuds and mauve sweet peas.

SCHOOLS & COLLEGES

Private Schools Accent Sports In Education of Youth Here

Accent placed on sport in B.C. private schools has played an important part in the mental and physical education of youth in this province.

Not only does sport increase a clean, competitive spirit among boys, but it also teaches them the necessity of co-operation and teamwork which will stand them in such good stead in later years.

In upholding the importance of sport, private schools contend it also to be a fine way of creating initiative, a phase in the education of today's youth which is receiving an increased amount of attention.

For youth, with its burning and zealous energy, organized sport provides an excellent outlet for that energy. But private schools also emphasize the necessity for co-operation and teamwork, rather than individual accomplishment.

British games have, of course, found an important place in the play of the private schools here.

RUGBY A FAVORITE

Rugby is one of the prime favorites in the schools and develops quick-wittedness among the players, along with an excellent sense of co-ordination. In addition, the game fosters a rapid, disciplined skill.

Field hockey, too, is excellent in its creation of and demand for co-ordinated, skillful effort. At all times, in these games, the private schools stress the necessity for good sportsmanship that enables a man to be beaten fairly without resenting it.

Boxing, a constant favorite among the boys, demands and gets a quick eye and supple muscles. Carried on in the cleanest tradition of amateur sport, boxing teaches the boys to give and take with a good will.

Soccer, another traditionally British game, also fills the need for co-operation and teamwork and has an important place in the sports of private schools.

Cricket, a steady favorite in England, is also a favorite in the private schools of this province, being excellent in its character training and good in the development of those gentlemanly traits with which the game is associated.

Other outdoor games featured at public schools here include track, tennis and swimming. While indoor sports include basketball and badminton, all of which provide the essential qualities of character, body development and a relaxation from concentrated study.

Hold Celebrations

Sisters of St. Ann celebrated the patronal feast of their congregation and the ruby jubilee of the Sister Mary Theodore, community historian. Sister Mary Jules of the Sacred Heart and Sister Mary Adolphus renewed the vows they made 50 years ago, while six younger members: Sisters Mary Bridget, Mary Kenneth, Mary Rosalia, Mary Charles Anthony, Mary Walburga and Mary James pledged themselves as members of the Sisters of St. Ann. Three Victoria girls: Sisters Mary Hilda (Loyola Edwards), Mary Antonius (Patricia Dickinson) and Damian Marie (Marguerite Lalonde) made first religious profession. The triple ceremonies of dedication were held in a flower-bedecked chapel.

Bishop J. C. Cody received the vows of the Jubilarians and the newly-professed Sisters, and also delivered the occasional sermon. A jubilee banquet was served to the diocesan and visiting clergy.

The annual procession in honor of St. Ann took place, Bishop Cody presiding.

Music was rendered by the sisters' choir.

Sisters from British Columbia, Washington and Alaska assembled for the annual retreat, attended.

Mrs. Vera Philbrook presided at the last meeting of Island Temple No. 8, Pythian Sisters, when Mrs. V. Barry reported progress on work for the bazaar and on the sewing tea held at the home of Mrs. Manson. Another sewing tea will be held Tuesday at the home of Mrs. McDowell, 1424 Denman Street. A picnic has been arranged for Aug. 9 at the home of Mrs. Dunkeld, Cedar Hill. Pythian picnic of combined Pythian Lodges of Victoria and Sidney will be held at the home of Mr. Allison, Cedar Hill, July 30. Cars will leave from the office of H. R. Brown, 1018 Blanshard Street.

Dorothy Dix
SOLDIER'S GIRL UNFAITHFUL
Dear Miss Dix—I am a young service man, recently returned from overseas, only to find that the girl with whom I had an understanding had become interested in a civilian while I was out in the combat area suffering unbelievable hardships and danger. My first reaction was one of disgust and I dropped her, but her father has written me that her affair with this other boy was broken off and he thought that if I wished to write to her we could probably resume our old relationship.

I would like to do this for I think I do love this girl but this is my problem: I expect to go overseas very soon again and I am wondering if I could trust her. I would have no objection to her going out to movies and dances with other boys while I am away but I am afraid that, lying in some foxhole, my mind would be tormented with suspicion of her unfaithfulness. Please help me to decide whether or not I should resume this relationship.

YOUNG SOLDIER.

Answer—Of course, if you are madly in love with the girl and she is the whole of the world and heaven, too, for you, you have no alternative but to take the risk of the girl being true to you, and make up with her. You will be miserable either way and probably less unhappy with even a slender hold upon her than with none at all.

But from your letter I judge that you are not quite certain of your own feelings. You say you think you are in love with her. If you haven't a more fatal case of love-sickness than that, my earnest advice to you is not to try to revive the relationship between you but just to let the matter ride until after the war.

Mervin Cummings . . . credit to I.O.D.E.

VICTORIA BOY ON RISE

Mervin Cummings, young Victoria violinist who has been continuing his studies in Toronto under Selma Reyes, has received a second I.O.D.E. bursary of $120, this time from the Provincial Chapter of Ontario. Last year Cummings received a similar award from Victoria Municipal Chapter, I.O.D.E.

With Miss Reyes he has been taking part in Toronto's Promenade Symphony, and at the June 22 concert also played with Cesar Borre, conducting.

"If Cummings could continue his studies for another year," Borre said afterwards, "he would be a finished artist. The I.O.D.E. has certainly come forward at an appropriate moment to assist towards that end."

In August Cummings will make his first appearance in a solo broadcast over CBL.

NEW YORK DEBUT

From Toronto comes news today that Selma Reyes, former Victoria violinist, will give a recital at Town Hall, New York, Oct. 22, under management of Columbia Concerts Inc.

A member of the Toronto Philharmonic Orchestra, Miss Reyes appears at the weekly promenade concerts at the University of Toronto Arena, and June 22 played under Cesar Borre, former erly of Antwerp, Brussels and Covent Gardens.

"Borre has a wealth of knowledge of the ballet, opera and symphonic conducting combined," she writes, "and the Volkoff Ballet couldn't have been better. The audience contributed the biggest applause yet."

Oak Bay Playground

Swimming lessons for girls have been arranged by the Oak Bay Playground Committee and are proceeding at Crystal Garden, with Mrs. R. W. Hibberson assisting Archie McKinnon as instructor.

P. R. Noel is now coaching the Oak Bay boys softball team and the fourth game against Central Park will be played Monday at Willows Park at 7.

Supervised playground activities are now in progress at Windsor Park each week-day from 10 to 12 and from 1 to 5 in the afternoon.

By invitation from Capt. E. G. Beaumont some of the older boys and girls are going on a yachting trip next Wednesday afternoon.

Quits have been started at Windsor Park and a tournament is being arranged.

Y.M.C.A. Camps

The Anglican boys' camp will start at Camp Thunderbird in the Sooke Hills, Aug. 1, under the directorship of Rev. W. Askew. It is expected that 57 boys will attend the camp.

On the same day the junior boys' camp of the Y.M.C.A. will break up.

DOUGIE'S TAVERN

"Dougie's Tavern," which is proving popular with the 16 to 19 year-olds, will feature Bob Nickell's orchestra tonight. This affair is sponsored by the Y.W.C.A. and held from 8.30 to 11.30 in the Sir James Douglas gymnasium.

By PETE SALLAWAY

LADS WHO follow the horses, were somewhat surprised when Ned Northwood came up with his favorite Teeworth as an entry in the $10,000 Longacres Handicap to be run at the Washington track late in August. They are shaking their heads and forecasting the great little mare, leading money winner on British Columbia tracks last year and tops to date for the current season with $1,556 to her credit in three handicaps, will not be one, two, three in the grand event.

EVER SINCE the inauguration of the rich classic at the Renton strip the winning horse has been owned by the association. The racing gentry at Longacres just wouldn't take kindly to a thoroughbred from this side of the border dragging all that mount of boodle back over the line. I'll never forget making a rip down to Longacres the first year the plant was in operation and meeting up with Acey Smith who was running Goldstream. The Victoria owner took me over to the barns to have a look, see at his speed burner and the condition of the thoroughbred was enough to make any horse lover's heart ache. His legs were literally cut to pieces—the result of his having run in a handicap. Goldstream did well at Longacres but when it came to him coping any of the big money it was just not in the books. It would be too bad if Teeworth suffered the same treatment. And it wouldn't be just tough racing luck.

IT IS SURPRISING that Northwood didn't enter his other fast runner, Ball and Chain, to run interference for the big mare. It is marvelous just what two horses can do to a field if they are handled right. Teeworth will not need a pacemaker with Okana in the field. Holder of the Pacific coast mile record and winner of the recent speed handicap at Longacres the flag with the Hawaiian moniker will be right up there in front.

WITH THE third meeting of the British Columbia racing season opening today at Hastings Park it is interesting to note that George Anderson, who trains the runners of the Bancroft and Snider Stable, and Sandy Gilmore of Jimmy Letwell's stable are tied for leading trainer honors to date. Addison and Gilmore each have sent five winners to the post. Tommy McGeehan and Sam Brunson are close behind with four apiece. Another feature has been the great number of claims. Commendable, Valinda Jill, Pass Forward, Franklin D and others have already been claimed twice. It is getting to the point where a poor nag never knows where he is going to eat his next meal.

ANGLERS will be glad to hear a new run of coho has arrived off Discovery Island. Fishing there Thursday evening one party landed 11 while another hauled six. The fish were taken right off the lighthouse. With the main run of coho due soon the fishing boys are scurrying around trying to buy plugs. From what I can find out there are none available and a fresh supply is not expected. I am told Rufe Gibbs in Vancouver has thousands of plug bodies, along with the hooks and cuttyhunk but cannot assemble the plugs owing to the lack of help. So you fellows with a favorite plug had better check your leaders with extra care before dropping it over the side.

LAATEST announcement from Ottawa to the effect that a certain amount of ammunition will be available for permits this fall still has the sporting goods dealers up in the air. They have been advised some shells will be sold to persons with permits but as yet have nothing definite. The other day they had to make another survey of their available stock for the benefit of the Wartime Prices and Trade Board but beyond that have not been told just what the new regulations will be. "Every time there is an announcement from Ottawa about ammunition we are besieged the next day with queries and I'm telling you it's a real headache," was the way one dealer explained the situation to me.

One Of Last Amateur Strongholds

Paddlers Take Honors

By SYD THOMAS
TORONTO (CP)—One of the last strongholds of the old-fashioned amateurism in sport is found in the realm of paddling, rowing and similar aquatic sports, opines Baz (Montreal Star) O'Meara.

The paddlers and rowers for the most part are in the game just for the fun they get out of it, which is payment enough. Then too, there's a more potent reason in the fact that the sport hasn't any great-spectator appeal and you can't get large crowds to turn out for a regatta and roll large quantities of money through the ticket office. They're staged in the open, and the people who attend usually are relatives and friends of the contestants, or citizens who want to spend a lazy afternoon in the sun and fresh air.

Paddling has been hit harder by the war than perhaps any other sport and the ranks have been thinned almost to the vanishing point. Those carrying on now are mainly youths under military age, but they're getting plenty of fun out of it and putting on some keen competitions in the localities where they still flourish.

INCIDENTALLY
Oshawa Generals are starting to build for next winter already. They've thrown out a line to Jackie Gibson, goalkeeper with St. James Canadians in Winnipeg last winter. They also are seeking Harry Taylor of the same squad. Soccer is being revived in Windsor, Ont., after a lull of several years. They're talking of the "finest league in the Dominion" now. When Los Angeles downed San Diego in a Pacific Coast baseball loop game the other night they had a former Toronto battery in action—Dick Conger on the mound and Eddie Fernandez receiving. The recent Regina race meet grossed $295,399, which works out to about a dollar a day from each resident of the city. It was also

St. Louis Browns Still Win

Zarilla Keeps Hitting

AL Zarilla's amazing hitting spree for a .554 average in his last seven games was accepted today in baseball circles as one of the chief factors keeping the St. Louis Browns in front in the American League flag chase, despite the rush of Boston and Cleveland.

Last night's three hits as the Browns thumped Philadelphia 8 to 5, upped Zarilla's total to 17 in his last 26 times at bat, and boosted his all-season mark to .301.

The Browns now have won seven of 12 starts against eastern clubs on the current home stand and boast a 3½ game lead on New York and Boston, virtually tied for second.

Boston clubbed Detroit's Paul (Dizzy) Trout for a 15 to 5 pasting yesterday as Emmett O'Neill chalked up his third win. The New York Yanks split their set with Cleveland by taking a 13 to 7 verdict for Ernie Bonham's sixth straight victory. Nick Etten and Johnny Lindell chipped in homers to help hand Al Smith his eighth loss.

Chicago got a neat eight-hit job by rookie Ed Lopat to trim Washington 8 to 2. Johnny Dickshot's bases-loaded triple off Lefty LeFebvre sparked a five-run Chicago third-inning. It was the Senators 11th loss in 12 games.

Bill Voiselle of the New York Giants blanked Pittsburgh 4 to 0 for his 13th victory, and first shut-out to take over the strike-out lead of the major at 101.

Philadelphia, Boston, St. Louis and Cincinnati were not scheduled in the National

COAST LEAGUE
Los Angeles regained a two-game lead on the Coast League baseball teams last night by hammering out a 17 to 7 victory over second-place San Francisco.

Hamilton Leanders Set Scoring Pace In Canadian Henley

PORT DALHOUSIE, Ont. (CP)—The 62nd annual Royal Canadian Henley moves into its final day today with Hamilton Leanders leading contestants for the aggregate championship.

Toronto Argonauts, the defending champions, however, are close behind and will be making a strong bid to retain the title. Leanders have 27 points and Argos 21.

In third place is the Ottawa Rowing Club with 11, while Detroit and Ecorse, Mich., clubs are tied for third place, each with nine points, and Buffalo and Wyandotte, Mich., with eight points each are tied for the next position.

Leanders moved into the top bracket by winning the last event of yesterday's nine. It was a battle for points in every race, with narrow victories being scored.

The three-day classic will end today with the running of 15 events, featured by the championship singles in mid-afternoon. Pitted in the feature are Ken Thorburn of Toronto Argos, who yesterday scored wins in the 145-pound singles and the open quarter-mile dash; Harvey Hutchinson, St. Catharines boy now racing for the Ottawa R.C., and Chuck Saunders, Hamilton star.

THREE VICTORIES
Saunders yesterday won the association singles by edging out H. Kromel of Ecorse and Ted Chloct, Argos' hope. Altogether the Hamilton club garnered three wins and one second-place yesterday while Argos had two wins, a second and two thirds.

Standings are based on eight points for first, three for second and one for third.

The Pennsylvania Athletic Club picked up only one point, and St. Catharines were pointless.

Gabriel Beaudry of Ottawa scored a surprise victory in the no-point high school singles when he dashed home six lengths in front of his nearest competitor, Bob McIntyre of Philadelphia. Bob Couch of Buffalo's West Side Club was third.

Murray Fight Winner Over Turk Thompson

NEW YORK (AP)—Lee Q. Murray, New York heavyweight, won a close decision Friday night over Elbert (Turkey) Thompson of Los Angeles, in a dull 10-round bout before a relatively small crowd in Madison Square Garden.

Murray weighed 206½, and Thompson 207½.

The affair was a clinching affair, with few effective punches landed. Thompson, a dusky replica of Tony Galento, bulled Murray around the ring most of the time, his head on Murray's shoulder, while they threw puny punches to the midriff.

Murray, wearing a moustache and sideburns which reached below his ears, turned from right to a left-handed stance at times, and once or twice Thompson tried it, but they were no better that way.

After four slow sessions, referee Arthur Donovan warned them to "get in there and fight or I'll stop it," and the action stepped up a bit.

Even Bowlers Pause When Yarrow's Gal Swats Home Run

By ANNETTE SEYWRIGHT
Fastballers got a thrill of a lifetime last evening at Victoria West ball park, where four teams participated, Sports Club vs. Unities, H.B.C. vs. Yarrow's.

For the Sports Club "seabiscuits" it was a quick victory, but what a bitter pill for the Unities, who now hold second place on the league with the Cwacs and Sports Club, respectively.

Come the revolution! Helen Pettigrew, who pitched a splendid game for the Unities, did not get the usual support. The team ran off the track continually, and were not at all like themselves. Skippy, who banged out some dandy homers in last week's game, ran into fog, but then she wasn't alone. . . . Better luck next time. . . . The Sports Club pitcher, who managed to throw spin-balls all evening, certainly spun a web around the opposing team. Good going, Isa, how about six easy lessons? Score: Sports Club 10, Unities 5, but don't let that scare you.

At the end of the field, the H.B.C. girls, looking striking in their green and yellow costumes, blitzed their way into the limelight when they took those amazing Yarrow's for a long spin, scoring up 28 to Yarrow's 17. The Yarrow's who regained a lot of ground in the last three games, took an awful beating. These Yarrow's gals had been making some of the top ones look as anemic as a single man's paycheque with the deductions removed.

Dot Johnson of the Yarrow's banged out a dandy homer. . . . what a swatter, even the lawn bowlers a block away stopped playing. . . . We admired Peggy Smith who hawked third base, and say, Joe, where did you get that dandy pitcher? Could it be Phyllis Smith? Joe has a recipe for hoarse throats but will not divulge the brand. Some pal!

Joe Reynolds Dies
VANCOUVER (CP)—Joe Reynolds, 70, well-known lacrosse player of 40 years ago, died here Friday. One of the early-cab drivers of this city, Mr. Reynolds started in business in the horse and buggy days and carried on into the automobile era.

EVERYBODY HITS
Every member of the Army team came up with a base hit as the Flyers were powerless to halt the devastating offensive. Kourt, taking over the shortstop berth for the soldiers, had a big night with four hits in six trips to the plate. Third baseman Bud Werstein and left fielder Art Chapman each had three for five while first sacker Bill Prior got three for six.

Short score follows: R. H. E. Army 17 22 4 R.C.A.F. 4 7 5 Batteries—Maze and Sawchuk; Appleby, Surpliss, Adshew and Adshew, Surpliss.

With Our Servicemen

By DICK FREEMAN

"Shells have whizzed around us, bombs fell near at hand, E-bombs played tag in the dark hours with us, shrapnel was picked up on our decks, planes tried to dive crash bombs on us, mines blew up nearby ships." This is the picturesque description of the work of the convoy of the Allied troops across the English Channel to France on D-Day by Ldg. Tel. W. A. Simmons, R.C.N.V.R., writing Mrs. L. E. Clendenan, 1334 Johnson Street. He is now on H.M.C.S. Souix. Simmons refers to an unnamed Victoria doctor who ministered to survivors aboard his ship as "tops." He goes on: "Our bombardment on D-Day was put up for none other than my old regiment, and as the command struck at dawn I had an uncanny feeling and said a little prayer for 'em." He left here in January, 1940, with the 1st Canadian Scottish Regiment, transferred the following year to the navy.

Simmons says one of his "tels" is a Victorian, Peter Roberts of Prospect Lake. "There's quite a few Victorians on this packet, including the skipper. We're a grand ship." Indicating the heavy nature of his ship's assignment in recent months, Simmons says: "In four months I've only been ashore four times, and that was afterwards—up north I had a record of 79 days aboard."

Thinking of his return home, Simmons adds: "I should be able to do well in the local pub when the coin runs low, and we have to rely on the salty dips for a few wets—what with the battle of the Atlantic, the big push in North Africa, the raid on the Von Tirpitz and now the invasion of Europe." "All I wait for now is the grand march to Tokyo, and I feel somehow we'll see it soon. I hope so, for I'd hate like hell to be left out of that."

W. Eng. John Raynsford, R.C.N.V.R., Victoria, who has been appointed chief engineer of H.M.C.S. Kincardine, newly-commissioned corvette. Raynsford joined the navy in 1940, has served aboard H.M.C.S. Armentieres, Westslinkin and Restigouche.

P.O. R. Allen Hudson, R.C.A.F., son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Hudson, 2178 Bartlett Ave., top graduate at a recent air-gunners class at Mont Joli, Que. He spent leave with his parents before going to with his parents before going to Monterey and Oak Bay High. Hudson was employed by Andrew Sheret Ltd. before he enlisted in the air force in November, 1943.

He joined the R.C.A.F. at Winnipeg in Jan. 1942, and following training at Regina, was posted overseas in March of last year. In Victoria, he won distinction on the rugby field as a member of the J.B.A.A. senior fifteen, and the McKeehn Cup team, and was, among the rowing club's roster of champions in junior and senior fours which won N.P.A.A.O. honors. He was a member of the Bank of Nova Scotia staff here before transfer to Winnipeg, and had been home in Feb. 1943, on leave.

Cooks of the R.C.N.'s infantry landing ship Prince Henry make the stew appetizing. Snapped in action in the ship's galley, P.O. Cook Don Adams and Ldg. Cook Don Floyd, both of Victoria.

"Sometimes around sunset you would hardly know there was a war going on, everything is so still and the sky and hills look beautiful in the last rays of the sun," says Driver George Merrick, writing to his mother, Mrs. T. M. Nixon, Alderly Road, Elk Lake, from somewhere in France. "It's really amazing," he goes on, "how funny quietness can seem after the constant roar of big guns and tanks. But soon after dark the noise usually starts again and the odd German pilot gets the courage to come over our lines for a bit of bombing, and it is just like a fire-works display when our anti-aircraft batteries open up on them. Believe me, you are glad to be sleeping in a hole in the ground. During the day, when there is not too much cloud about, a German pilot hasn't a chance as our aircraft seem to be everywhere and it is very comforting to see them pass over us. They are doing a great job of work over here and deserve the highest praise from us all."

Merrick thanks his mother for 300 cigarettes received. "Boy, were they ever welcome," he says. "I had been out of smokes for nearly a couple of months, it seems, but due to the kindness of my pals I kept smoking somehow. We all smoke much more now that we are over here. I imagine it's the excitement that does it."

Pte. Frank (Curly) Costello, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. Costello, 155 Croft Street, has been wounded in action in Normandy, according to word received by his parents. Curly sustained multiple shell fragment wounds in both thighs. Enlisting in April, 1943, he went to France with the Calgary Highlanders. Before joining up he was employed in the King's Printer's Office. He is well known in sports circles, having been a prominent member of the Bays lacrosse team. He was educated at St. Louis College.

Legislation Due For Huge Scheme Of Home Building

OTTAWA (CP)—A resolution providing for the introduction of new housing legislation appeared in the Commons order paper today in the name of Finance Minister Lloyd.

The legislation is in five parts:

1. Loans for construction for prospective home owners with advances not to exceed $100,000,000.
2. Loans up to $50,000,000 for the construction of homes to be rented.
3. Loans for improvement of housing in rural areas limited to $5,000,000.
4. Loans up to $100,000,000 for alterations and improvements.
5. Undertaking of research to lower housing costs and provide better housing conditions and improvement in community planning.

HOUSES FOR RENT

The section dealing with assistance in the construction of homes to be rented includes provision for loans, not to exceed $50,000,000, to limited dividend housing corporations to assist in financing low-cost housing projects. In addition life insurance companies under the jurisdiction of Parliament may be given guarantees on loans for the purchase of land and construction of low or moderate-cost housing.

Authority is also given under certain conditions, which are not defined in the resolution, for grants to municipalities to a total not exceeding $20,000,000 for slum clearance.

To assist in improving rural housing the government may enter into contracts with approved lending institutions and may also make agreements with manufacturers of building equipment to assure the production of components for rural homes on an economical cost basis.

British Advance On Burma Border

KANDY, Ceylon (CP)—British Imperial troops have driven to within nine miles of Tamu in the rapid clearance of Manipur state of the enemy after a 30-mile advance from Palei in six days. Admiral Lord Louis Mountbatten's headquarters announced today.

The increasingly disorganized state of Japanese resistance indicated the Allies soon would be able to cross into Burma.

38 Jap Ships Sunk

WASHINGTON (AP)—Destruction of 37 more Japanese vessels, including one escort craft, by U.S. submarines was reported by the navy this afternoon, raising to 38 enemy shipping losses announced in two days.

Canadian Scottish Company Pours 10,000 Bullets a Minute Into Foe

From MATTHEW HALTON, Daily Sketch and CBC War Correspondent in Normandy

For eight years I have been covering wars, but never have I seen such appalling battle, death and fury as I have seen in the last three hours.

At 5 in the morning Canadian troops attacked the powerful enemy strongpoint at Carpiquet airfield, about four miles west of Caen, which for three weeks was a thorn in our side.

That vital strongpoint is only 800 yards from where this is written.

To sit here and write these words right now is fantastic in a ghastly sort of way, because I can plainly see without aid of field glasses wave after wave of Canadian assault troops and tanks moving like automatons through a wall of fire.

It was said in the last war, and it is said in this, that the Canadians are super-assault troops. I can see that it is true.

I sat at a window in a stone barn with Major D. G. Crofton, from Salt Spring Island, B.C. He commands a company in a crack Western Canadian Regiment (The Canadian Scottish from Victoria, B.C.).

The men of that company, within a few feet of me, are pouring 10,000 machine-gun bullets a minute into the German positions 800 yards away in support of the attacking Canadians who are coming in across our front.

May Again Close Forests

Conditions in B.C. woods are so hazardous because of hot, dry weather and prevailing winds, that it may again be necessary to place a complete closure order in effect, the government's forest branch said today.

Under the existing order, there is no restriction on logging north of Knight's Inlet, on the mainland, on Vancouver Island from Squagash north and down the west coast, west of the Great Central and Spout Lake watersheds as far as Alberni Canal; while logging in the balance of the Vancouver forest district is restricted to the early shift, with all men to be out of the woods by 1 p.m. Unless the weather changes, it may be necessary to place the areas, at present open to logging, on the early shift and prohibit all operations in the balance of the forest district.

According to the weekly report of the chief forester, there have been 944 forest fires in B.C. to date last year, and 531 in 1942. New fires last week totaled 148.

The Hillcrest fire is now under control, but two fires at Butte Lake, one on the north end and the other on the south, are not under control.

Victory Unlikely For C.C.F. in Alberta But Gains Probable

By HUGH BOYD, Victoria Times Correspondent
EDMONTON—Efforts of the C.C.F. in the Alberta election to score their second major victory in Canadian politics appear likely to fall short of realization, but at the same time the party may poll a heavy vote and become well established in the next Legislature.

This is the opinion I find most widely expressed by citizens, regardless of political leanings.

The two alternative results of polling most likely to occur, say most observers here, are:

1. Return of the Manning Social Credit government with a fair majority, or
2. Inability of any group to command a majority over all.

It is in the latter event that the independents led by James Walker, farmer from Raymond in the south, would probably be a factor. For the assumption is that a deadlock would mean their presence in some number, placing them in a position to exercise a stabilizing and moderating influence in the House, as one of their spokesmen expressed it.

In any case, on the record of the party in B.C. and Ontario, the C.C.F. would almost certainly stand aloof from any coalition arrangement with other parties.

THE GREAT YEAR-ROUND TONIC

SCOTT'S EMULSION

DEFYING THE SHELLS

Scores of German mortar shells are exploding among them. I see men throw their arms up and fall backward. I see others crumple to their knees and then roll over—I see that as I put the words down on paper in wild excitement.

But other men keep advancing. They don't run, they march on in measured step. The only ones who run are the stretcher-bearers.

At 10 seconds to 5 the morning was as soft and quiet as a pearl. At exactly 5 our barrage tore the world apart.

Seldom has there been a greater barrage and never has there been such a concentrated barrage of field guns—exact figures are not permitted—large numbers of medium and many heavy guns opening up in one split second, and since they started they have dropped many thousands of shells on Carpiquet.

On to all this the enemy were attacked by many squadrons of fighter-bombers and rocket-firing Typhoons.

To watch all this falling on the enemy 800 yards away was the most spectacular horror I have ever seen. And it was horrible—even though it was falling on the enemy.

The world was maniacal and evil. This is what men do to each other in 1944! It is monstrous. It is grotesque.

May Again Close Forests

Conditions in B.C. woods are so hazardous because of hot, dry weather and prevailing winds, that it may again be necessary to place a complete closure order in effect, the government's forest branch said today.

Under the existing order, there is no restriction on logging north of Knight's Inlet, on the mainland, on Vancouver Island from Squagash north and down the west coast, west of the Great Central and Spout Lake watersheds as far as Alberni Canal; while logging in the balance of the Vancouver forest district is restricted to the early shift, with all men to be out of the woods by 1 p.m. Unless the weather changes, it may be necessary to place the areas, at present open to logging, on the early shift and prohibit all operations in the balance of the forest district.

New Arena Offer Made by H. B. Olson For Willows Plant

H. B. "Barney" Olson, operator of the Willows Arena for the last three years, today reopened negotiations with the city for replacement of the plant destroyed by fire last April.

He offered $18,000 for a 10-year lease of a combined horse show-skating rink building to be erected by the city at the Willows. By that means, he pointed out, the wishes of the B.C. Agricultural Association to re-establish its plant at the fair grounds would be met and the city would have an ice surface.

Mr. Olson also sought an agreement which would permit him to manufacture ice for domestic sale at the plant, and asked for a 10-year renewal option on any lease that might be made.

The proposal would help solve financial difficulties entailed in construction of an arena. Mr. Olson pointed out. Insurance money from the April fire would provide $65,000 toward the project, while his advance rent would contribute another $18,000.

The B.C. Agricultural Association committee, including a strong City Council delegation, has asked replacement of horse show facilities with a judging ring and other features which would meet exhibition needs of the future.

If the building were designed specifically for stock judging, horse show and rink purposes, its architecture could be modified to make it more suitable than the old building for such purposes.

Mr. Olson's suggestion to the city followed an expression of his surprise over the alleged lack of action on the part of the citizens' committee, which, he said, had to date declined his offer of assistance in their deliberations.

Farm Prices Floor Draws Approval

OTTAWA (CP)—The government's plan for machinery to put a floor under farm prices in the postwar years drew approval from spokesmen for the Progressive Conservative and the C.C.F. when Agriculture Minister Gardiner moved second reading of the Floor Prices Bill in the Commons today.

E. E. Perley, P.C. Qu'Appelle, Sask., and P. E. Wright, C.C.F., Meaford, Sask., both said the establishment of floor prices formed part of the policies of their parties.

Whole West Wing Normandy Line May Be Shifted

By GLADWIN HILL

ALLIED SUPREME HEAD-QUARTERS (AP)—U.S. tanks hurled back the first strong enemy armored counterattack east of captured Coutances today and slashed on down the Normandy coast to within gunshot of the next German escape hatch at Brehal, 11 miles to the south.

(D.N.B., the German agency, reported the Germans are about to withdraw their entire western wing of the invasion front "to shorten lines" and declared the Americans were bringing up reinforcements for a large-scale offensive.)

While the British-Canadian Caen sector remained quiet, tank battles broke out on a wide scale as Field Marshal Rommel sought to stem the offensive of the U.S. forces impelling his positions blocking the way to the heart of France.

He threw fresh tanks recklessly into the first real counterattack since the U.S. offensive began five days ago, hammering against the U.S. left flank at Tessy-sur-Vire, but was checked after a fierce engagement.

Allied Tanks Win Hedgerow Fight

Simultaneously, Tiger tanks and other armored remnants bypassed by U.S. columns, opened up in an attempt to break out of woods west of Les Mesnil-Herman. They were repulsed by quickly-summoned Sherman tanks in tank to tank duels among the hedgerows.

Rommel's armor supply was depleted by incessant aerial attack, which in three days has knocked out 250 enemy tanks.

More than 100 duels raged between U.S. Sherman tanks and great 60-ton German Tiger tanks, by-passed in the rush of American armor in a high forested area between Canisy and Notre Dame-de-Cenilly.

From reports indicated these virtually surrounded elements were being mopped up.

This appeared to be mostly a fight for survival by German remnants left behind to try to hold open a route along the coast for the enemy's battered infantry.

Associated Press correspondent Hal Boyle reported U.S. tanks had brought Brehal within gun range after capturing the village of Le Mesnil-Aubeht, seven miles south of Coutances.

Another column to the east reached St. Denise Gast, 10 miles from the coast and nine miles south of Coutances.

Nazis Troops North Of Coutances Doomed

Any enemy forces remaining above Coutances were doomed by a spearhead of tanks that reached the Atlantic below the Sienne estuary south of Coutances.

Successive encircling movements threatened to push the enemy's whole Normandy front back to a 70-mile line anchored on the northeast at Caen and on the southwest of Avranches, at the base of the Brest peninsula.

Rommel was concentrating reinforcements from both the east and west. A convoy of three armed minesweepers and four landing craft crowded with soldiers approaching the Atlantic port of Granville, 15 miles south of Coutances, was bombed and machine gunned by planes of the British fleet air arm, which sank a landing craft and damaged a minesweeper.

A total of 250 German tanks were reported knocked out by U.S. fighter planes alone in the last three days.

Rommel, apparently, has decided at last to shift part of the armor which he has been holding south of Caen to meet any impending blow from Gen. Montgomery's forces.

Observers reported a movement of enemy vehicles Friday along lateral roads toward the U.S. sector from the Caen area.

Quebec Tory Chief Chided, Resigns

QUEBEC (CP)—Bona Arsenault announced here today that he had resigned as president of the Progressive Conservative Association of Quebec province and that L'Opinion Publique, French counterpart of the official Progressive Conservative organ in Quebec, would no longer be published. Mr. Arsenault has been editor of the paper.

Mr. Arsenault's announcement came one week after Progressive Conservative leader John Bracken had released the text of a telegram he had sent to Mr. Arsenault dissociating himself and the Federal Progressive Conservative organization from an article in L'Opinion Publique attacking Senator T. D. Bouchard.
